A Glimpse into the Collection

Each story in this anthology is a masterpiece in its own right, offering a unique perspective on the complexities of love, loss, and second chances. From the bustling streets of Jerusalem to the tranquil shores of the Mediterranean, the settings are as diverse as the characters themselves.

- In "The Hummus Queen of Jerusalem," a young woman discovers her culinary heritage and finds love in the most unexpected place.

- "The Rabbi's Daughter" explores the forbidden romance between a rabbi's daughter and a secular journalist.
- "Second Chance Shabbat" follows a divorced couple who rediscover each other amidst the traditions of the Jewish Sabbath.
- And many more captivating tales that will leave you longing for more.

Beyond the Romance

While love is the central theme that binds these stories together, "Second Chance Romances With Israeli Flavors" offers so much more. It is a nuanced exploration of Israeli society, Jewish culture, and the human condition. Through the lens of these characters, readers will gain a deeper understanding of the complexities and beauty of Israel.

Food also plays a pivotal role in this anthology. The tantalizing aroma of hummus, the comforting warmth of shakshuka, and the sweet indulgence of baklava transport readers to the vibrant culinary scene of Israel. It is a celebration of the rich tapestry of flavors that define Israeli cuisine.

Authors of Note

The anthology features a diverse group of talented Israeli authors, each bringing their unique voice and perspective. From established literary figures to emerging talents, these writers have crafted stories that are both moving and thought-provoking.

- Etgar Keret, award-winning author known for his absurdist and poignant short stories
- Ayelet Gundar-Goshen, acclaimed novelist exploring themes of identity, trauma, and motherhood

- Dorit Rabinyan, celebrated author whose work focuses on Jewish mysticism and the complexities of human relationships
- And many more talented voices capturing the essence of Israeli literature.
