What is the CLEP College Composition Exam?

The CLEP College Composition exam is a standardized exam that is designed to assess your skills in writing, reading, and critical thinking. The exam is divided into two sections:

1. Writing: This section consists of two essays. You will be asked to write one essay on a topic that is related to college composition. You will also be asked to write one essay on a topic of your choice.
2. Reading and Critical Thinking: This section consists of multiple-choice questions. You will be asked to read a passage and then answer questions about the passage. The questions will test your comprehension of the passage and your ability to think critically about the passage.

The CLEP College Composition exam is a challenging exam, but it is also a fair exam. If you prepare for the exam, you can be confident that you will be able to pass the exam and earn college credit.

How to Prepare for the CLEP College Composition Exam

There are several things you can do to prepare for the CLEP College Composition exam. Here are a few tips:

1. Take a practice exam: This is the best way to get a feel for the exam and to identify areas where you need to improve.
2. Review your college composition notes: This will help you refresh your memory on the key concepts that are tested on the exam.
3. Practice writing essays: This is the best way to improve your writing skills and to prepare for the essay section of the exam.
4. Read articles and books: This will help you improve your reading comprehension skills and to prepare for the reading and critical thinking section of the exam.
5. Get a good night's sleep: This will help you be at your best on the day of the exam.

By following these tips, you can be confident that you will be prepared to pass the CLEP College Composition exam and earn college credit.
